Designed, Manufactured and Fitted with Care

Why Choose Finesse?

We care...

Above everything else, we care. From initial discussions to following up with customer support, every member of the Finesse team takes great pride in their work and wants to deliver results that the customer can be proud of.

Our legacy and achievements are defined by the quality of our work and the satisfaction of our customers and the fact that everyone from our management team to our manufacturers is housed under one roof allows us to ensure that a family approach is more than just a marketing term. Every project that we undertake is relationship-driven, as the requirements and desires of the customer are complemented by the knowledge and expertise of our staff.

...about you.

As a family business, the one way in which Finesse Windows can truly stand out from the crowd is through our people. The nature of our entire service, which incorporates the entire process from design and manufacturing through to installation and aftercare, means that having the right experts in the right areas of the chain is paramount, so that is exactly what we do!

We care about your home

With hundreds of years of experience between them, our team has the knowledge and past achievements to ensure that every project meets and exceeds the requirements of our customers.

As you can tell, we are immensely proud of our team and the work that they do.

The Finesse Windows philosophy is shared between every single individual, allowing us to deliver outstanding results through experience, knowledge and teamwork.

About your security, comfort and style...

It goes without saying that we want all of our projects to look incredible and this is achieved by using the finest materials and the latest manufacturing techniques to bring a vision to life. However, we consider products that are aesthetically inspiring to come as standard, and place just as much of a focus on what goes on behind the scenes in everything that we deliver.

Unlike some companies, we have the opportunity to guarantee this quality too, thanks to our approach that encompasses the full installation process, from design all the way through to installation and aftercare.

Choose Your Design

Choose from 6 standard designs or invent your own. Our Elegance door designs have been carefully collated to reflect traditional door styles that have been prevalent in English homes for the last 100 years. The Elegance door range brings together classic design with modern materials and up-to-date technology to provide superior build quality without compromising on aesthetics.

The beauty of our Elegance door system is that we can adapt our manufacturing process to suit your requirements. If you have a door design in mind that is not shown here we would be delighted to work with you to design something that is unique to your home.

The flexibility of our Elegance Door range enables us to create just about any Glass design. We also offer Georgian & Astragal Bar Options.

Choose Your Colour

Your Elegance door can be tailored to reflect your individual style. If traditional white isn't your preference we can add any of the 11 colours shown below to the frame or the sash or even to both. Our Elegance range is so configurable that you can mix & match and have one colour inside and a completely different colour outside.

The Irish Oak, Rosewood and Golden Oak options feature a realistic woodgrain pattern whereas the other colour options feature a consistent flat colour.

Choose Your Threshold

The type of threshold you choose is very important as your choice will affect the way in which your door performs. A low threshold offers a minimal step-over which is excellent from an accessibility point of view - whereas a UPVC threshold is unbeatable at protecting you from water ingress and draughts.

Our designers carry samples of each type to demonstrate the difference between your threshold options. By carefully configuring your door in this respect you can ensure that your door operates perfectly for you and will suit your lifestyle.
